

Our trip to Ireland

On the first day of March we, the 6B and 6C together with three of our teachers, had to get up quite early, as we were about to fly to Galway, Ireland. We all have been waiting and were excited this day was finally here.

Once we landed in Dublin, we still had a three-hour bus ride ahead of us. When we finally arrived in Galway, our host families picked us up.

The next 5 days we all had a great time. In the afternoon we would have school, which was surprisingly enjoyable. We played games, which were not only fun, but also helped us improve our English grammar and vocabulary. We also learned some new Irish expressions such as “What’s the craig?” or “The Jacks”.

Our mornings were never boring! We either had free-time or we would go on an excursion with our teachers. We really enjoyed our time together as a group and loved exploring Galway! The trip we enjoyed the most was the trip to the Cliffs of Moher. We couldn’t have picked a better day – the weather was incredible and so was the view! But to be honest, every single trip was great and something we will never forget.

Friday was a sad day, because it was our last day of being in Ireland, but we still made the best of it and purchased some really great books at Charlie Byrne’s Bookshop. The next day, we all flew back to Vienna knowing this was a week we will never forget. We didn’t only love the city and the fun excursions, but also the fact that we all shared this experience.

Looking back at it now, we must admit that we were really lucky considering the fact, that a week later we couldn’t have flown because of Covid-19!
